Interstate Railroad Transportation. WASHINGTON, January 17th. - Senator railroad transportation will probably report to the Senate to-morrow or Tuesday an original interstate commerce bill, and at the same time submit an exhaustive report in its support. The committee which

Commission should be established, vested with certain supervisory powers over the creating supervisory powers over the cre subject of interstate commerce. These should be confined to the function of regulation, and not to the management of the business of interstate commerce. It would, the Board thinks, serve no useful or practical purpose to give such Commis or practical purpose to give such Commission the power to establish maximum rates for either passenger or freight traffic over interstate railways, the subject being too large and intricate to be intelligently dealt with by a single body of the agent agent of the power of the property body of men, even though composed of soon as possible, and an understanding will railroad affairs. There are, the Board says, two classes of interstate traffic over railroad lines—one between interior points and the seaboard, and the other across State lines, but still local. It is obvious that the rates adopted for one class would furnish no criterion of rates for the other. The great ereal crops raised in the Mississippi valley and the meat products in the trans-Missi sippi, in the continued production of which the country is vitally interested, can only e maintained by a system of rates for their transportation to the seaboards, which, while they involve no absolute loss, would, if the same rates were obligatory upon them as to all traffic carried over their lines, onsign every road in business into bankruptcy. To desire a system of maximum rates covering every species of in-terstate traffic on the basis of rates for lorg hauls from the extreme for lorg hauls from the extreme West to East would paralyze every railroad engaged in the business. On the other hand, to equalize rates as between long and short routes would if railroad property is short routes would, if railroad property is to be preserved and its efficiency mainupon the movement of the cereal crops of the extreme western trans-Mississippi—a result which would be little less disastrous o the East than to the West. While the overn interstate traffic would not, there-

It has been Justice Short's good fortune to marry a number of nationalities. I am a native of England, and while I was in that country I contracted a terrible blood poison, and for two years was under treatment as an out-door patient at Nottingham Hospital, England, but was not cured. I suffered the most agonizing pains in my bones, and was covered with sores all over my body and limbs. Finelly I completely lost all hope in that country, and sailed for America, and west treated at Roosevelt in this city, as well as by a prominent physician in New York having no connection with the hospitals.

I saw the advertisement of Swift's Specific, and I determined to give it a trial. I took six bottles, and I can say with great joy that they have cured me entirely. I am as sound and well as I ever was in my life.

Now, however, a change will be inaugurated, based upon confidence in the adaptability of the soil and climate to citrus fruit production. It is all important that these facts be kept before the tranger. It would not be unadvisable to have these important facts prominently set forth in cards among the exhibits. So, too, it is very desirable for the information of the stranger that there be displayed in the fair at San Francisco a large map of the State with the counties prominently designated Barnes took the first, McCann the second and by crayon markings which are represented by the exhibits. The Chromicle congratulates the people of Sacramento on their enterprise in conducting the citrus fair, and their liberality in footing the cost. It is not the first time, by any means, that our critizens have made manifest the fact that they are broadminded and liberal on all matters relating to the "settling up" and development of the State. For years they, in common with the people of the upper counties, have labored alone, and added only by the Central Pacific Railroad Company, to develop the northern section. > > Sacramento: In response to your request for yopinion as to the consitutional validity and adding force of the anti-Chinese ordinance prosed on the lith instant, for your considerant by a committee of an anti-Chinese association.

In Dy a communee of an anti-Chinese associa-in, I have to say:
That said ordinance is a self-manifest and loable violation of the Federal Constitution, that it is aimed to exclude from the city of in that it is aimed to exclude from the city of Sacramento all persons of a certain,nationality; that is to say, all Chinese, without regard to age, sex, occupation, or other condition. To some minds this does not perhaps appear so apparent. But to the same minds, if an ordinance were framed, with a whereas even more verbose and extended than this in recitation of supposed evils, followed by a section making it a misdemeanor, punishable by fine and imprisonment for any Italian, Mexican or Portuguese to reside in or remain within the limits of the city after a specified time, it would at once become perfectly clear that the Federal Constitution (State Constitution and laws to the contrary notwithstanding) does not tolerate, but forbids such class legislation. It would need no reference to decisions of would need no reference to decisions of ourts. In that case one of the Judges said: "The leclaration that 'the Chinese must go, peaceable or forcibly," is an insolent contempt of national obligations, and an audacious defiance of national authority. Before it can be carried into effect by force, the authority of the United States must irst not only be defied, but resisted and oversome. The attempt to effect this object by viocence will be crushed by the power of the Government. The attempt to attain the same object ndirectly by legislation will be met with equal irmness by the Courts; no matter whether it asfirmness by the Courts; no matter whether it assumes the guise of an exercise of the police power, or of the power to regulate corporations or of any other power reserved by the State; and no matter whether it takes the form of a constitutional provision, legislative enactment, or a municipal ordinance."

Article VI. of the Constitution of the United states says: "This Constitution, and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursual than the control of the United States which shall be made in pursual than the control of the control o the United States which shall be made in pursu-ance thereof, and all treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be the supreme law of the land, and the Judges in every State shall be bound there-by, anything in the Constitution or laws of any State to the contrary notwithstanding." Legis-lative and executive officers of States and muni-cipalities are as much bound as judicial officers by the Federal Constitution, and by their oaths are boundto support it.

re boundto support it. Section 1977 of the United States Revised Section 1977 of the United States Revised Statutes, passed to give effect to the fourteenth amendment, provides that "all persons (not all citizens) within the jurisdiction of the United States shall have the same right in every State and Territory to make and enforce contracts, to sue, be parties, give evidence, and to the full and equal benefit of all laws and proceedings for the scenity of person and property as is for the security of person and property as is enjoyed by white citizens, and shall be subject to like punishment, pains, penalties, taxes, ticenses and exactions of every kind, and to no

These cases illustrate the wide gulf of difference that exists between those acts of hostility against private rights which are prohibited by the Constitution, and those which may be lawfully employed to regulate the enjoyment of those rights. If the pretense be made (it can be nothing above a pretense) that the expulsion and exclusion of Chinese from Sacramento is merely an exercise of those powers of police regulation which it is conceded belong to the States, the answer, if it does not already sufficiently appear, may be found in the quick frustration of the several attempts heretofore made in this State to evade treaty obligations and constitutional guarantees. It was resolved by the largest anti-Chinese meeting yet held in Truckee to boycott these parties, and boyis a bitter feeling against Sisson, Crocker & Co., who persist in keeping their Chinese in defiance of the unanimous will of the community. The Pacific Lumber and Wood Company rescinded a written conmais and invalids afflicted with contagious and infectious diseases," but your ordinance for infectious diseases," but your ordinance for that purpose must aim at all of such persons, not those of the Chinese race exclusively. A law making vagrancy a misdemeanor is valid; but a law making vagrancy by Chinese a misdemeanor would be invalid. So, in my opinion, the proposed ordinance, by reason of its application to Chinese exclusively, would fall dead beneath the weight of the fourteenth amendment of the Federal Constitution. HEALTH

Is not possible when the blood is impure, and recovery from any ailment must be slow and uncertain while that condition continues. The Blood may be corrupted by the taint of Hereditary Scrofula, and the poisons of Mercurial and Contagious Diseases, and also by impurities implanted in it through excesses in living, improper food, derangement of the digestive and assimilatory organs, and other causes. The first external evidences of such vitiation are Blackheads, Pimples, Sties, Eruptions, and Boils. Yet more serious are the symptoms showing its internal effects in depression of the Spirits, Lassitude, Weariness without effort, Headaches, Dizziness, and enfeebled circulation. Be warned in time!

Aver's Sarsaparilla

Is the only medicine that will thoroughly purify the blood. In millions of cases, during nearly forty years in which it has been the best hope of bumanity suffering from vitiation of the life-current, it has effected cures beyond the power of any other remedy. Leading physicians know its composition from the most powerful alteratives, diureties, and tonics, and prescribe it in their practice. PREPARED BY

The following address has been issued to NORTHERN CALIFORNIA CITRUS FAIR, OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY, SACRAMENTO, January 16, 1886.) To Exhibitors: It has been determined to ta California, that an exhibition of all these semitropic productions in the great commercial city of the Pacific coast, where thousands of people, including tourists from all parts of the world see them, would be the best possible advertisement of the possibilities of the northern half of the State. In order that the greatest benefits may be realized from this exhibition in San Francisco, the exhibits should be as large and fresh as possible. If all those whose exhibits are to go to San Francisco could send additions to them good results would be so much the greater. The Executive Committee would, therefore, urge all those people in northern California, who have citrus fruit and other semi-tropic productions, to forward as much as possible; to mark all shipments "Northern California Citrus Fair." and in care of the Mechanics' Institute, San Francisco. All charges will be paid by the Mechanics' Institute. We feel satisfied that each orange or lemon sent to San Francisco, is a high by the Mechanics' Institute. pand by the Mechanics' Institute. We feel satisfied that each orange or lemon sent to San Francisco is a bid by the locality from which it comes for an increase of population and capital. Exhibits should be sent so as to reach San Francisco by Monday, the 25th instant, at the latest. We feel that the future of our part of the State will be largely affected by this exhibition in San Francisco.
